

Instructional Strategies That Foster Collaboration in the Classroom

Give One and Get One

This strategy can be used to generate ideas, share ideas, or give the group an opportunity to transfer ideas learned in a class or discuss.

1. On the form, list two things you remember from today's class.
2. Meet with another person. Share one of your ideas. Record his or her idea on your form.
3. Continue meeting with other classmates until you have 10 good ideas.
