

Flexible Instructional Days

When:

Test Run on October 14th & after all snow make-up days have been utilized.

What:

Learners will be:

- continuing independent work that they have been prepared for in class.
- continue with digital and non-digital work that has been assigned by teachers.
- collaborating with teachers through digital means of communication.
- responsible for assigned work as outlined by the teacher's expectations.

How:

After our test run on October 14th, a FID day will be called by noon the day prior to FID. This will allow teachers and learners to get all instructional materials & directions prior to the FID.

What do I need to do/know for that day?

1. Go to huntsd.org and register your child(ren)'s attendance on the google form provided OR if you cannot access the google form please send a brief note explaining the work your child completed for attendance purposes. If your child is ill on FID, please send an excuse as normal.
2. Communicate with teachers as necessary about assignments, activities, projects and readings through the communication methods sent home by the classroom teacher.
3. Support your child(ren)'s efforts as you would other homework or at home assignments.

FAQ:

We have a FAQ page loaded into our website. If you would like to review more information or submit a question to be reviewed and posted, please follow this QR code below. In addition, we will be sending out a survey after the test day to gather input about future implementation.
