Welcome to the Standing Stone Elementary page!

Standing Stone Elementary is a kindergarten through fifth-grade elementary school in Huntingdon, PA. The school is located on the same campus as the high school and middle school but has a separate entrance on West 29th Street.

Students within Standing Stone receive instruction in core subjects and also have access to reading intervention through both Title I services and our interventionists through a multi-tiered system of support (MTSS) framework. Specials within the building include art, library, music, as well as physical education. Students also have the option of joining band and chorus in fourth grade or participating in other clubs such as Lego League or our after-school tutoring program, CATS club.

If you have any questions about Standing Stone, you can contact the office at (814)-643-0771.

New enrollments can fill out paperwork on the HASD enrollment site. Or call (814)-641-2112.

Thanks for stopping by!
